Dawn Lane is the Broker/Owner of Luxury Lane Realty and one of Costa Rica's most recognized real estate educators and industry leaders. With more than 25 years of real estate experience, she helps buyers, sellers, and investors navigate the Costa Rican market with confidence, transparency, and expert guidance.

A full-time resident of Costa Rica, Dawn specializes in luxury properties, investment opportunities, ocean-view homes, resort communities, and relocation services for international clients. Her unique combination of North American real estate experience and local market knowledge allows her to bridge the gap between international buyers and the realities of purchasing property in Costa Rica.

As Past Vice President of the Costa Rica Global Association of Realtors (CRGAR) and Costa Rica's only certified OMNI MLS Instructor, Dawn has played a significant role in advancing professionalism, education, and cooperation within the country's real estate industry. She was instrumental in helping facilitate a functional MLS system in Costa Rica and has trained agents throughout the country on best practices, ethics, data accuracy, and market transparency.

Dawn is also the founder of The Collective CR, a growing network of top-producing real estate professionals committed to elevating the industry through collaboration, education, and shared expertise. Her passion for improving the consumer experience and raising professional standards has made her a respected voice within the Costa Rican real estate community.

Whether assisting a family searching for their dream home, an investor evaluating opportunities, or a retiree planning a move to paradise, Dawn is committed to delivering knowledgeable guidance, personalized service, and lasting relationships built on trust.
